

Further engagement will take place during the construction process with ideas feeding into the project. Information about the project has been displayed at Bletchley Library and at Newton Leys Primary School. Sarah will be working with staff and children at the school to involve them as much as possible in the development of the project

Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Council have been kept informed as the project has developed and are supportive of the project.

2. THE DESIGN CONCEPT

A 3 sided archway sitting on a triangular foundation pad, built from brick to recall the former industry here, clad with bespoke blue and white tiles on one side and pattern brick on the other, it has a cast bench seat, and a gargoyle water spout for water to drain off the top surface.
